COLONEL EDWARDS OUT.

Chief of Administration of Panama Canal Has Resigned.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The members of the Isthmian canal commission held a meeting at the residence of Chairman Shonts during the evening and decided upon important changes in the administration office of the canal. The office held by Colonel Clarence R. Edwards, chief of administration, was abolished to take effect Nov. 15. It was stated at the office of the commission that Colonel Edwards, before leaving for the Isthmus, resigned, and that this resignation and the abolition of the office was to be announced from Panama by Secretary Taft, that the work of Colonel Edwards' had been satisfactorily completed and that his services were no longer necessary.

RUSSIANS CELEBRATE

CZAR'S GIFT OF FREEDOM ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED BY HIS PEOPLE.

LITTLE TROUBLE REPORTED

RIVAL PARADERS AT ST. PETERSBURG ONLY INDULGED IN STREET FIGHTS.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—All Russia during the day celebrated enthusiastically the emperor's gift of freedom, which the greater part of the people received with deepest joy, though in St. Petersburg, Moscow and other cities Socialists and revolutionaries organized anti-government demonstrations and red flag parades, which with the patriotic manifestations led to a number of conflicts between the "reds" and "whites," as the anti-government and royalist factions are respectively termed. On the whole the day passed more quietly in Russia than had been expected, though collisions between the people and the troops are reported from Poltava, Kazan and Kishineff.

In each of the two capitals, St. Petersburg and Moscow, the day was one such as the Russians never before have seen. The Slavic people, which during the long war just closed and the anxious period preceding the announcement of the new era of constitutionalism seemed self-restrained and apathetic, gave itself up fully to the exuberance of the moment and spent the entire day in parades and assemblies which for the first time in the history of Russia were freely permitted. Under the orders of Count Witte and General Trepoff the troops generally were withdrawn from the streets of the cities and the fullest rein given the people to let out their enthusiasm in demonstrations which so long as they were not destructive were not interfered with.

Significant Omen.

It was a significant omen that after a fortnight of gloomy and depressing weather symbolic of the days of the strike, the sun shone out bright during the day and in St. Petersburg brought a radiant Indian summer day. From early morning the streets of the capital were filled with a mass of demonstrators who paraded up and down the Nevsky Prospect and tramped time and again the route between the two principal centers of demonstration, the Kazan cathedral and the university, and constantly augmenting, reached a grand total of fully 200,000 persons, while down the Nevsky Prospect late in the afternoon Socialist agitators, consisting of both students and workmen, and members of revolutionary organizations, jumped into the forefront of affairs in St. Petersburg and converted the celebration into a great revolutionary demonstration.

There were long processions in which hundreds of red flags were carried and to which everyone was compelled to doff their hats. A great majority of the paraders flaunted on the lapels of their coats rosettes and streamers of crimson ribbon, and Socialist orators delivered fiery orations from the balconies of the university and the portico of the cathedral, or wherever they could gather audiences. They declared the concessions of the emperor's manifesto were insufficient and that they must have the freedom of all political prisoners, the formation of a national militia and the banishment of General Trepoff and all the troops under his command twenty miles from the capital.

Socialists Defeated Loyalists.

Early in the day the Marseillaise supplanted the national anthem as the popular marching song. The loyalists attempted to take the lead against the Socialists and revolutionaries by organizing counter parades in which they carried the red, white and blue banners of Russia and chanted the national anthem, but they were driven off the Nevsky Prospect by the overwhelming number of the "reds" every time they appeared.

In the early part of the day great crowds of spectators filled the broad sidewalks and remained until the demonstrations assumed so turbulent a character that the well intentioned classes fled to their homes and the merchants hastily boarded up the windows of their stores and shops and barred their doors, fearing an outbreak which might result in pillage and destruction. Such an outbreak, however, did not occur and the day closed without serious collisions.

The major portion of the citizens, fired out by the long celebration of the first day of Russian liberty, went early to bed and at midnight the Nevsky Prospect was deserted, except for crowds of roughs, armed with clubs, who paraded the avenue singing the national anthem as well as revolutionary songs and who had frequent collisions with each other, during which shots were fired.

The most serious encounter during the day took place near the barracks of the Semenov regiment, where a crowd of demonstrators in attempting to march to the technological institute, was stopped by troops. Shots were fired on both sides with the result that one man was killed and ten wounded.

A prominent lawyer and a professor were wounded in a collision at the polytechnic school. Another fatality resulted from the demand made by the crowds that hats be doffed before the red flags. An officer who refused to obey the demand was set upon and beaten with the staffs of flags, when he drew his revolver and fired a number of shots, killing one person. In an affray at the Putiloff works between strikers and non-strikers, several men were badly beaten. Ten or twelve men were wounded in the conflict on the Nevsky Prospect.

The authorities are apprehensive of trouble during the day, as the liquor shops, which for the most part have been closed, will be open, and when the agitators after a day's incendiary speeches may be able to work a portion of the population to the point of a serious encounter with the troops or with the loyalists.

Soldiers Headed One Procession.

The soldiers off duty during the day mingled freely with the demonstrators and fraternized with the populace. A number of them, including several officers, placed themselves at the head of one procession, provoking wild cheers.

A feature of the day was the intense enmity displayed by the orators against General Trepoff, the agitators universally demanding his removal, and at a great meeting in the university at night one orator openly called for a volunteer to kill him. Count Witte, however, does not seem inclined to throw him overboard, at least for the present and has also refused the proposals for the removal of the troops as sheer folly.

The forthcoming amnesty for political prisoners announced by Count Witte served to defeat a number of attempts made by agitators to stir the crowds up to attack the St. Petersburg institution, in which political prisoners are detained, but which is strongly guarded by troops.

During the afternoon Count Witte announced to a friend that he was not without hope that universal suffrage would be introduced before the elections for the state duma took place.

This announcement when it spreads among the Liberals will enroll many of the latter among the friends of the new government against the Socialists, who announce that they will be satisfied with nothing less than a democratic republic on the basis of state socialism.

If the agitators force a collision and the army stands firm the resultant bloodshed will be apt to react against them and to drive all except the radical element into the government camp, assuring Count Witte a strong majority in the duma when it assembles.

POBEDONOSTSEFF RESIGNS.

Chief Procurator of the Holy Synod Retires.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 1.—The dawn of a constitutional era marks also the passing of Constantine Petrovitch Pobedonostseff, the aged chief procurator of the holy synod and the servant and advisor of three emperors, who all during his long life has been the strongest defender of the autocracy. He was unwilling to remain in office under a parliamentary government and at night presented his resignation, which was accepted by the emperor, who at the same time nominated him to the senate, the resting place of retired statesmen.

The first change in the ministry contemplated by Count Witte also was indicated at night in the published announcement of the retirement of Lieutenant General Glasoff, minister of education, who was nominated to the ministry from the army when the strong hand and iron discipline were thought necessary to keep the students in order. It was General Glasoff who recommended to the emperor the granting of autonomy to the universities and the conferring on them of the right of assembly.

Many Persons Killed.

Kazan, Russia, Nov. 1.—The attack of a detachment of Cossacks on a number of prominent members of the professions during the celebration here led to an encounter in which the troops used their rifles and killed many persons.

Trepoff's Resignation Reported.

The wounded men gave their names as G. E. Smith of Cincinnati and J. W. Wood of Vincennes, Ind. Revolvers and rifles were brought speedily into action when the posse came upon the fugitives in the afternoon and a lively battle ensued, in which Smith and Wood were wounded, the others escaping.

CROWD INVADERS CITY HALL.

Shows Disapproval of a Tammany Campaign Banner.

New York, Nov. 1.—An invasion of the city hall was made during the day by a great crowd of men and boys who were angered at the raising of a Tammany campaign banner on which there was a red flag above the name "Hearst" and an American flag above the name "McClellan."

The crowd, shouting "Let's tell McClellan what we think of him," overran the city hall steps for a quarter of an hour until dispersed by the police. When the immense banner was raised near the monument to Benjamin Franklin in Park Row, beneath the two flags being the inscription "Under Which Flag?" an excited crowd immediately gathered and self-constituted leaders made speeches from the base of the monument. The great triangle at this point was quickly blocked by a crowd which howled curses at the banner overhead. Several persons attempted to pull the banner down but they were prevented by mounted police and one man was arrested. One of the speechmakers was then seized by the crowd and carried on their shoulders toward the city hall, to continue the demonstrations in the mayor's presence. On the city hall steps a few policemen attempted to stop the rush but were swept aside and sent for assistance. Except for shouting his opinions the crowd showed no signs of violence and made no further attempt to reach the mayor. Until an extra force of police arrived a mass meeting was conducted on the steps and when the police ordered the gathering to disperse the order was obeyed in a peaceable spirit. The man under arrest was later let go on suspended sentence.

Brainerd Has To Bow To The Inevitable—Scores Of Citizens Prove it
After the reader has read the public statement of this representative citizen of Brainerd given below, he must fairly, squarely and honestly come to this conclusion: "A remedy which cured years ago, which had kept the party in good health since, can be relied upon to perform the same work under similar circumstances. Read this:
Chris Hanson, of 1412 E. Oak St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "The lapse of time has not diminished my confidence in Doan's Kidney Pills which I recommended in a testimonial given in 1898. As I stated at that time, we found this remedy to be a sure cure for children afflicted with weakness of the kidneys. Our boy has been troubled in this way at night, but Doan's Kidney Pills which we got at H. P. Dunn & Co.'s drug store, gave him prompt and effective relief. Since then I have used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for backache and they banished my trouble in short time."

NEW TIME CARD SAID TO BE OUT

And the Rumor From Staples is To the Effect that it will be On Sunday

SOMETHING BETTER FOR CITY

Says the Report and it is Intimated Nos. 7 and 8 will Run Via This City

There is said to be a new time card on the Northern Pacific in course of perfection and the report that came from Staples today is that the new schedule is effective next Sunday. There is ordinarily just about so much railroad dope to be handed out anyway, but anything regarding a change in the present train schedule out of this city is relished very heartily by the business men and citizens, and therefore the rumor about a probable change and the details is interesting.
The rumor is to the effect that either Nos. 5 and 6 or 7 and 8 will run by the way of Brainerd instead of by the way of the "cut-off," but railroad men are inclined to the belief that it will be Nos. 7 and 8 if any change is made at all. There are also said to be other alterations contemplated which will change the whole schedule around.

SOUTHEY'S GUILLOTINE.

It Did Not Serve the Purpose For Which It Was Made.
Lord Southey once in a fit of disgust with life had a magnificent guillotine erected in the drawing room of his magnificently appointed house in the Rue de Luxembourg, at Paris. The machine was an elaborate affair, with ebony uprights inlaid with gold and silver. The framework was carved with great artistic skill, and the knife, of immense weight and falling at the touch of a spring, was of ornamental steel, polished and as sharp as a razor. The spring which liberated the knife was placed within easy reach of any one kneeling upon the scaffold. In fact, every detail was arranged with a view to the convenience of the would be suicide. The day that the engine of death was entirely finished Lord Southey completed his testamentary dispositions, shaved, had his hair cut and, clothed in a robe of white silk, knelt upon the platform under the knife.
The guillotine was placed before a large mirror, wherein the person committing suicide could see his own image until the last. Murmuring a short prayer, Lord Southey placed his head in the semicircle and pressed the spring. The next morning he was found calmly sleeping in his bed. The spring had failed to work, and after several fruitless efforts Lord Southey was compelled to relinquish his attempt upon his life. Thoroughly cured of his spleen, he presented the guillotine to the Glasgow museum, whence he made an annual pilgrimage to see it until the end of his life.

Prussian Dairymaids.
In the great Elbing dairies in west Prussia the dairy maids are not permitted to wear corsets. The different grades of proficiency are indicated by the caps worn. The milkmaids wear white caps, the pupils white also, with the addition, however, of black velvet bands, and the dairy teachers caps with silver lace. Many daughters of the landed nobility take a course in this work, but all alike wear the uniform prescribed. This is not a skirt, but waist and knickerbockers. It is found that this is the most cleanly and comfortable and serviceable in an occupation subject to various accidents.

Risk Versus Security.
There never was a harder master than the uncertain. "Nothing venture nothing win" is a true proverb, and sometimes it is a good guiding principle. If a single question and not a general principle were under discussion we might say that the conditions warrant a venture. As a rule we are profoundly convinced that a sure dollar is better than a possible $10; that comfort is always preferable to wealth in a lottery. The one thing to be avoided above all others is instability of income. This is not to suggest that under all conditions a man should prefer the settled and sure.—Independent.

CROSS CUTTING IN THE BIG SHAFT

Went Down About 118 Feet And

Forty Feet

SHOW SOME IMPROVEMENT

In Cross Cutting Several Good
Bands of Ore Were Encountered by the Miners

Agitation in ore circles has been rather quiet the past few weeks, but notwithstanding there has not much been said, work has been consistently pushed on the Cuyuna range. The large number of drills are still at work and some report some excellent prospects at different points. The central point of interest has been in the Rabbitt Lake country but work is being done all along the range.

The point at which Brainerd people are mostly interested is at the big shaft on Sec. 8, where the Pickands-Mather people are doing a great deal of work. H. Jarchow, who has charge of this work, was in the city this morning and he stated that they had sunk the shaft to the 118 foot level and that they are now and have for some time been cross-cutting. They have crosscut a distance of some forty feet and have encountered several very good bands of ore, quality and quantity being even better than had been anticipated at this distance.

To Get Out and Cut Up the Usual
Pranks

Last night was Hallo'een night but things were unusually quiet in Brainerd, largely on account of inclemency of the weather, which was cold and blustering. There were the usual number of parties, etc., which attracted not a few young people and there were the customs in many of the homes bobbing for apples, etc., but without there was very little disturbance and the minions of the law bowed with grace to the work so nobly performed by the weather man.

Buried Alive.
In the early history of Japan it was decided a dubious honor to be closely related to any person of note, for one of the laws at that time decreed that when a person of rank or importance died all the immediate relatives must be buried alive in a perpendicular position around the personage's grave. Their heads were left above the earth, and thus they remained until welcome death came to free them.

Unless you bear with the faults of a friend, you betray your own.—Syrus.

GARDNER-SEYMOUR

Former Well Known Young Lady of This City Married at Red Lands, Cal., a Short Time Ago

The following regarding the marriage of a former very well known young lady of this city at Red Lands, Cal., is taken from one of the Red Lands papers:

"At noon today about fifty relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gardner at Texas street and Pennsylvania avenue, to attend the marriage ceremony of their daughter, Miss Clara Louise Gardner, to Ray McCarty Seymour, of Los Angeles, formerly of York, Nebraska. The bride was gowned in white organdie and carried brides roses and maidenhair ferns. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. J. Raymond Thorpe, of Los Angeles, as matron of honor, and the groom had as his best man, J. Raymond Thorpe. On entering the parlor, where the ceremony took place, in a bower of green and white, under a white wedding bell, the bride was followed by little Miss Sarah Stearns, who acted as flower girl, and Master Paul Shape, who carried the ring on a satin pillow. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. S. Mitchell, of the New Jersey Methodist conference. The house was elaborately decorated with green and white trailing vines, and in the dining room, where the wedding breakfast was served, green and white streamers were festooned from the ceiling to the corners of the table. A number of friends assembled at the Santa Fe station to bid the bride and groom the usual farewell, but the happy couple changed their plans and took the car for San Bernardino, from which place they proceeded to their new home in Los Angeles, where they will be at home to their friends at 604 Court street. A number of out-of-town friends were among the guests."

TRAIN INCIDENT IS CLOSED.

Ringleaders of Chinese Mob Punished
by Governor of Nanking.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The incident growing out of the attack on Admiral Train and his son by a Chinese mob near Nanking has been satisfactorily adjusted. The state department during the day received a dispatch which said:

"Admiral Train has just arrived at Shanghai. The incident occurred near Nanking, Oct. 24. Train and his party were shooting when a woman was accidentally wounded by Train's son, but her injuries were slight. The son was detained by the mob but an amicable settlement was made. The mob afterward attacked and two Chinese were wounded by two civilians. No sailors took part in the engagement. The governor of Nanking apologized to the officers, restored their guns and punished the ringleaders of the mob. The incident is regarded as closed."

Frank Spenser came down from Pequot this noon and got busy looking for one Toney Vandlerplegen, who he claims is guilty of having gone through him a few nights ago at Pequot and robbed him of $60 in money and a gold watch.

Spenser claims that he and Vandlerplegen went to the North Dakota harvest fields together and returned to Pequot a short time ago. A few days ago they got on a drunk and it was while Spenser was in a drunken stupor, according to his own statement, that his old pal "went through" him.

Vandlerplegen is known to have come to Brainerd yesterday but it is thought now that he has gone to his old home in Iowa. Spenser says he knows where he lives and he will make an effort to locate him and have him brought back here to face the charge.

MOST ENJOYABLE TRIP.

President Roosevelt Pleased With Journey Just Ended.

Washington, Nov. 1.—President Roosevelt regards his Southern trip just ended as a most enjoyable and profitable experience. Particularly did he enjoy the sea voyage and he expressed himself in the most enthusiastic terms regarding the ships, officers and men of the squadron.

While at sea Sunday the president made a speech to the officers and men of the West Virginia. He had just completed an inspection of the entire ship. In the boilerroom a profusely decorated shovel was put into his hand and he was asked to throw a shovel of coal into a particular boiler. He threw in two and the boiler was immediately christened the "Roosevelt boiler." The shovel was passed around that every stoker might shovel coal with it. It was then speedily demolished into bits, each piece being retained as a souvenir.

President Roosevelt came ashore from the Dolphin at the Washington navyyard at 11:55 a. m. and five minutes later he had left the yard for the White House in a carriage with Mrs. Roosevelt and the trip was at an end which rounded out his tour of the entire United States during his presidency. The incidents of the arrival and landing were according to arrangements.

Nervous Headache

The Cause of Much Suffering to Women is Permanently Cured
When the System is Built up by

DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE PILLS.

When the head aches hard and throbs; when the neck and eyes grow stiff; the face flushes or grows deadly white; when any excitement or over effort brings on an attack of nervous headache so severe that it leaves you weak, trembly, shaky and utterly worthless for days, it is a certain indication that the nervous system is shattered—that resistive power is gone—that you need a medicine that will rebuild and re-supply the lost nerve force, that will so strengthen you that you can resist and overcome these terrible seizures. Such a medicine is Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, a medicine that does not relieve but goes to the root of the trouble and positively cures.

Mrs. John Fall of Fourth St., Toronto, O., Says:

"I like Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills because they cured my nervous sick headaches—these headaches used to play me out and leave me weak and nervous, the pain being so severe. My eyes used to get stiff and sore during the attack and the neck so stiff I could hardly turn it. The Nerve Pills, however, proved to be just what I needed and cured the attacks in a hurry. As a result I feel steady in nerves, physically strong and vigorous and in every way sound and well. This makes me feel I can't speak too highly of the medicine." 50 cents a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., on every package.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

ADELAIDE THURSTON IN A NEW PLAY.

"The Triumph of Betty" the new play which is being so successfully presented by dainty Adelaide Thurston this season is generally stated to be a particularly happy blend of merriment and sentiment. It is a comedy in four acts by W. A. Tremayne and Irving L. Hall and differing entirely from most of the recent stage productions.

They have transplanted an American girl from the lands of the great west to an old cathedral town in England. The beauty of the place, its quietness and historic traditions that surround it make a great impression on her, for it is the birth place of her ancestors, and the feeling of hereditary is strong within her, but the narrowminded and conventional views that are held by many of the residents are absolutely repugnant. She is thoroughly natural and used to a life of freedom and is forever coming in sharp contrast with the laws of conversation and etiquette which govern these with whom she is now associated.

Her supporting company is said to be the finest she has ever carried and the production will be up to the usual order of excellence. The advance sale opens on Friday morning and the prices are $1, 75, 50 and 25.

"THAT LITTLE SWEDIE."

An attraction of which much has been heard is Emily Erickson Greene in the beautiful dialect play, "That Little Swede," which comes to the Brainerd opera house on next Tuesday, Nov. 7. Miss Greene is the most successful Swedish dialect actress before the public today and is warm hearted, impulsive delightful little woman full of magnetism and infectious vivacity. She has served a long apprenticeship in the drama, beginning as many favorite stars have begun, in the variety business. She graduated very soon from that elementary school of the stage, and has played many soubrette and ingenue parts with a number of the big stock companies. The management were very fortunate in securing her for this play. Prices will be 25, 50 and 75c.

"THE HOLY CITY."

The production of "The Holy City," to be given at the Brainerd opera house will be an agreeable surprise even to those who expect the most from the play. It is certainly a daring attempt to give a play founded on some of the most stirring and tender incidents in the Holy Word, and only by the most careful avoidance of anything like sacrilege could the play be made a success. But this has been accomplished by the author and the dialogue does not breathe a single word but what is pure and elevating in its tendencies. The play is founded on the incidents of the Biblical story just previous to and immediately after the crucifixion and the scene on Calvary is shown in a tableaux after the painting by Michael Angelo. The presence of Christ is frequently referred to, but obviously it would be impractical and offensive to attempt to represent the Master on the stage, and this is not done. But many of those intimately associated with Christ during His time on earth, are presented with a fidelity to the best conceptions of their characters and appearance, and the result is a play which is absorbing in interest and elevating in its teachings.

Great Duck Hunters

W. H. Cleary and M. J. Reilly, who make good in about any old position one might place them, certainly took in too much territory when they got into the duck hunting business. They went out yesterday to find Whipple lake where Mr. Cleary said to Michael that there were ducks to burn and they would just sneak up on them. They walked all the afternoon around Red Sand lake but never located Whipple, but in the mean time peppered away at everything that looked like a duck. They brought home three ducks between them, but it is learned on good authority that a boy with an old flintlock wounded the ducks and Messrs. Cleary and Reilly waited for two hours until they washed ashore. Mr. Reilly said the size of his coat hampered his shooting and Mr. Cleary avers that he filled the ducks so full of lead that they sank to the bottom of the lake. If any one wants to hear a real genuine duck story they want to just get "Bill" one side and he will get the "high pressure" on right away.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local application, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. In many cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed in millions of homes—and you will make a drink fit for a king in this way:

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE.

Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee. Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use "a tablespoonful to each cup, and one extra for the pot." First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if egg is to be used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st. WITH BOILING WATER. Add boiling water, and let it boil THREE MINUTES ONLY. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d. WITH COLD WATER. Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

3. Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving. DON'TS (Don't use water that has been boiled before.)

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st. With Eggs. Use part of the white of an egg, mixing it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d. With Cold Water. Instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water, and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Insist on getting a package of genuine LION COFFEE, prepare it according to this recipe and you will only use LION COFFEE in future.

THE GIANT CAUCASUS

A REGION OF GLOOM AND TERROR AND DESOLATION.

The Strange Mixture of Races Dating Back from Immemorial Antiquity That Peoples the Slopes of These Snow-Capped Mountains.

The traveler who should seek to cross from the southern plains of Russia over into Persia or Arabia by the land between the Caspian and the Black seas would find himself confronted by a sight which for gloom and terror has hardly any equal in the world, writes W. B. Holman in the London News. Rising sheer from the vast arid plain, like a great foam crested billow about to break on a desolate beach, a billow 10,000 feet high and 800 miles long, the snow-capped Caucasus stretches across from sea to sea with a dreadful, threatening, savage majesty of mien.

Its peaks are not so high as many of the Alps, it has not the projecting spurs and isolated, craggy heights whose groupings give new and beautiful views at every step. It is just an immense mountain chain, an unbroken fold or crease on the earth's surface. Though the Alps have higher peaks the lowest pass across the Caucasus is nearly double the height of the Alpine crossing places. The Caucasus has no lakes, only turbid, muddy rivers flowing from the ice fields of its central ridge. Even these are missing in the east, where the ridge lowers toward the Caspian.

But the terror and desolation of the Caucasus forever kept apart the peoples to the north and south. On the one hand civilizations rose and fell—the Babylonian, the Assyrian, the Greek, the Egyptian, the Roman, the republics of the middle ages—but to the north the great plains were ever inhabited by the wild, lawless nomads. And so from the very beginnings of time the Caucasus has stayed the human tide, and, as conquering races swept all before them below the weak, the peaceable, the unit, have been driven higher and higher into inaccessible gorges and wild, bog covered valleys.

A strange mixture of races, dating back from immemorial antiquity, has been washed up like surf on to the slopes of these giant mountains. The Ud, the Kurin, the Avar, the Tush, belong to races that perished before Europe was discovered. Seven languages are spoken in the Caucasus, each unintelligible to the tribes using the rest.

Some of them are related to the early tongues of Europe; others have no known affinities and seem to be among the languages of Babel that did not "catch on."

Here amid these mountains we have the ghosts of ancient peoples who have gone under in the world struggle. There may well be tribesmen here whose ancestor was driven high by the flood and settled within sight of Ararat and his cousin, Noah. There are still tribes who array themselves in helmets and chain armor and carry spears like those of 3,000 years ago. Others have strange ritual practices that have come down from the dawn of the world, mingling their pagan rites with worship of the "Christ God" and the angels of the river, the forest and the mountain. They have blood feuds which go on for generations, like those of Corsica in the past.

It is a mistake to suppose that Russia took the Caucasus by a general warlike movement. There was no need. Divided by religion into Christians, Mohammedans and pagans, divided by languages which made them mutually unintelligible, the tribes of this strange museum of bygone races could take no united action.

Throughout the first three-quarters of the nineteenth century Russia was employed in absorbing the Caucasus piece by piece. Only two of the Caucasian races made anything like strong resistance. In the east a Mohammedan prophet, Shamiyl of the Avar stock, which overran a great part of Europe in the seventh century and was only finally conquered by Charlemagne, led the Lezgians of Daghestan in a religious war against Russia. Crafty, daring and fertile in resource, occupying mountain slopes cut by impassable gorges, Shamiyl was believed by his followers to have a charmed life. Only when the Russians built forts and military roads and gradually inclosed him at enormous expense did Shamiyl surrender at his castle of Gunib in 1859. He passed some years of honorable captivity near Moscow and was then allowed, as a devout Mohammedan, to end his days in peace at Mecca.

Very different was the story of the Tcherkesses, or Circassians, who opposed Russia in the western section of the Caucasus. The Circassians were hardly the peaceable race of whose golden haired captive princesses in the harems of the east our boyish dreams were full. Warlike, splendid horsemen and marksmen, they lived almost entirely by pillage. In 1864 they submitted, and Russia, knowing them to be unmanageable in the mountains, gave them the choice of coming down into the plains or emigrating into Turkish territory. They chose the latter course and were welcomed by the sultan, but as his ships arrived at the Black sea ports to meet them long after the proper time large numbers perished of hardship and disease. Some were settled in Armenia, others in Bulgaria, others in various parts of Asia Minor, and wherever they went there has been trouble since.

THE COMMON SNAIL.

An Air Breathing Creature That Lives Without Air.

The common snail has lungs, heart and a general circulation and is in every respect an air breathing creature. This notwithstanding, he can live on indefinitely without inhaling the least atom of air—that which is usually considered the essential to existence in all creatures supplied with lungs. Leppert says, "To all organized creatures the removal of oxygen, water, nourishment and heat causes death to ensue." When that statement was made he does not appear to consider the snail as one among the great host of "organized beings," for experiments prove that any or all the usual life conditions can be removed in its case without terminating its functions.

It is a fact well known that the common land snail retreats into his shell on the approach of frosty weather in the fall and that the opening or mouth of the shell is hermetically sealed by a secretion which is of a silky texture and absolutely impervious to both air and water. In this condition it is plain that he is deprived of three out of the four elements of life mentioned by Leppert—viz., air, water and nourishment.

Taken after he has been thus handicapped for months, he may be plunged into a chemical mixture 100 degrees colder than the degree marked at Fahrenheit's zero and allowed to remain in that chilly solution for weeks. Yet as soon as restored to normal temperature life is renewed, and the snail soon regains his natural powers, clips the silken curtain from his house door and begins to feed as naturally as though just awakening from a winter's sleep. Spallanzani kept a snail of the great helix family hermetically sealed in a glass tube from which all air had been carefully removed for a period of four years and two months, yet he declared that the creature regained all its normal functions within less than an hour after being exposed to a temperature of 90 degrees.

BOMB CAUSES A PANIC.

Infernal Machine Found in a New York Tenement.

New York, Nov. 1.—Twenty-five families in a tenement on Leroy street were thrown into a panic late at night when a dynamite bomb with a fuse lighted and about to explode was found in a hallway on the second floor. The discovery was made by a woman who was passing through the hall and at first when she saw the fuse sputtering, she thought that somebody had fired the building. She quickly alarmed the janitor, who divined what it was and roused all the tenants, who fled in terror to the street.

John Skelly, a watchman, prevented an explosion by severing the fuse, which by that time was within an inch of the bomb, with a knife. A policeman carried the infernal machine to the station house, where it was immersed in a pall of water.

SHORTAGE IS LARGE

ENTERPRISE NATIONAL BANK IS SAID TO BE OUT OVER A MILLION DOLLARS.

BOOKS PROMPTLY FURNISHED

REPORTED DISAPPEARANCE OF THE DISCOUNT BOOK IS NOT CONFIRMED.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—Comptroller of the Currency Ridgley's report that the Enterprise National bank shortage may reach $1,500,000 and the presence of Special Examiner Moxie in Harrisburg has temporarily turned the eyes of the bank's depositors and stockholders toward the state and national capitals for the next development. Receiver Cunningham said at night that all indebted to the bank had been notified to pay up and the stockholders had been notified of their 100 per cent assessment. Some of the bank's debtors, he said, had paid and others had not. Questioned as to the reported disappearance of the bank's "discount book" he said every book called for up to date by the investigators had been promptly furnished.

PHYSICIAN IS LOCATED.

Boston Police Know Man Who Disappeared Miss Geary's Body.

Boston, Nov. 1.—Just before leaving his office at police headquarters for the night, Chief Inspector W. B. Watts stated that the doctor who dismembered the body of Susanna A. Geary, the suit case victim, had been located. He did not expect, however, that any arrest would be made for a day or two, intimating that the police were awaiting something more definite from Morris Nathan, the lover of the girl, who is now in custody in Pittsburg.

The theory of the police regarding the whole affair, in which the most serious charge in connection with it can only be manslaughter, is that Miss Geary went to a woman and submitted to an illegal operation. The operation was not a success, but before the girl died a male physician was called in and he attempted to save the girl's life by a second operation for peritonitis. Miss Geary died, the doctor then dismembered the body and distributed portions of it in two suit cases, which were subsequently found.

The charge against the woman can only be one of manslaughter, while according to Superintendent Pierce of the local force, it will be difficult to bring any charge against Nathan unless he should be accused of concealing a crime.

Pittsburg, Nov. 1.—With the reluctant consent of his attorneys and against the advice of the physician called in, Morris Nathan voluntarily left the city at 11 p. m. for Boston in the custody of Silas P. Smith of the Massachusetts state constabulary. One of Nathan's attorneys says they may yet produce Miss Geary alive, as there is no positive evidence that she is dead.

FEVER FIGHT ALMOST ENDED.

Federal Surgeons at New Orleans Will Be Sent Back to Their Stations.

New Orleans, Nov. 1.—Following is the official yellow fever report up to 6 p. m.: New cases, 3; total to date, 3,396; deaths, 2; total, 446; new focus, 1; cases under treatment, 24; cases discharged, 2,926.

The break-up of the federal forces which have been engaged in the fight against yellow fever began during the day with the receipt of orders from Surgeon General Wyman notifying Dr. White that eleven members of the force should be sent back to their respective stations.

The continued low number of cases is considered confirmatory of the opinions of the authorities that active foci have been reduced to a minimum and that practically all the infected mosquitoes have been destroyed.

FAREWELL BANQUET TO WRIGHT

Retiring Governor of the Philippines Given a Popular Demonstration.

Manila, Nov. 1.—The farewell banquet to Governor Luke E. Wright was attended by many army officers and civilians and was one of the most popular demonstrations ever given to an official of the islands. The governor was toasted by Americans, Englishmen, Spaniards and Filipinos. He was cheered for ten minutes when he arose to speak. In his address he gave credit to his colleagues for the work that had been accomplished. He said there never had been personal differences between the commissioners. From the first they never had been conscious of swerving from the policy of President McKinley. He urged the people to cease political discussions and work for the development of the islands. He said: "Whatever may be the utterance of any American, however distinguished he speaks for himself alone. Congress speaks for the people. In view of what has been accomplished may not the most suspicious Filipino trust the government?"

Governor Wright expressed faith in the islands and his belief that congress would act favorably toward them. A declaration that he expected to return in a few months was greeted with great applause.
